Keep your yarn attached

Row 21-25

Measure a quarter of the way each end to gauge your neck hole. I folded my panel in half and placed a stitch marker in the centre, I then folded the edges in towards the centre stitch marker and placed stitch markers on the fold which will be your neck hole. The 3 stitch markers should be evenly spaced along the panel.

With your attached yarn tr to your outer stitch markers on each end for 4 rows. These are your shoulders.

Stitching your panels together

Working on the ws, ss the top (shoulders) of your panels together and then ss your sides together leaving armholes free. To do this I halved my panel from top to bottom, the fold is the bottom of your arm hole, place a stitch marker in and ss to the bottom of the hem.

Neatening the neckline, arm holes and hem

Working on the rs
dc around the arm holes

dc around the neckline twice dc around the hemline twice to neat

Ruffles

Attach yarn to your armhole and ch 3

4 tr into each dc to create a ruffle effect, continue all the way around and fasten off and weave in ends.
